Sales presentations, product quotes, letter packages, marketing materials and virtually any document package require the use of multiple documents. This reality is a challenge when a business is looking to deliver one secure document that preserves the page order, style, formatting and integrity of the original documents. Drawloop solves this problem by delivering a free service allowing you to upload, convert and combine multiple documents into one secure PDF file for delivery. You do not need to install software or be working from your desktop computer. Our LOOP service is delivered on-demand and available for use 24/7 through a web browser.

LOOP works with these core documents:

LOOP also accepts: Bitmap, BMP, GIF, PNG, Plain Text, XML, HTM/HTML, Publisher and Visio.

It's simple and easy to convert and combine your documents in seconds.

Use LOOP to convert and combine your documents to PDF. You can also view, select pages, and then combine those pages into one secure PDF file for delivery. Perhaps most important for today's business climate, LOOP allows you to deliver one combined PDF document in seconds while ensuring the integrity from all of the output pages selected for the document package. Drawloop utilizes some of the most advanced technology for Internet security available today. When you access our site, Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology protects your information using both server authentication and data encryption, ensuring that your documents are safe, secure, and available only to registered users in your organization. Your documents will be completely inaccessible to your competitors.
